

ORDINANCE NO. 061125
GRATZ BOROUGH, DAUPHIN COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA

AN ORDINANCE OF GRATZ BOROUGH AMENDING SECTION 202, PART 2, OF THE GRATZ BOROUGH ZONING ORDINANCE ADOPTED MAY 16, 2019, TO INCLUDE THE DEFINITION OF PERMITTED AREAS FOR RESIDENTIAL SOLAR ENERGY SYSTEMS

The Gratz Borough Council does hereby amend the Gratz Borough Zoning Ordinance, Part 2, Definitions, Section 202 by the addition of the following definition:

“Solar Energy System, Residential” means any solar collector or other solar energy device or any structural design feature whose primary purpose is to provide for the collection, storage and distribution of solar energy for space heating or cooling, for water heating or for electricity that may be mounted on a building or on the ground of a lot containing a one or two-family dwelling and is accessory to the primary use. The Building and Impervious Coverage calculations shall be calculated on the total square footage of each solar collector or other solar energy device as measured from a horizontal plain. This definition shall only apply to a solar collector or other solar energy device with a fixed location and angle. A Residential Solar Energy System shall be considered a Minor Solar Energy System for the purposes of Section 503.

This Ordinance shall be effective immediately following its adoption.

The GRATZ BOROUGH Zoning Ordinance is hereby amended to include the above amendments, this 11 day of June, 2025, by the Gratz Borough Council.
